A HAPPY SUMMER

The months have rolled by rapidly and we are again at the end of a college year. The year has not been a very joyous one, for always in the background of our happiest hours hovered the shadow of a great sorrow—a great loss. Yet we have acquired a goodly store of memories to tide us over the summer months. There are some who have finished their work, and who will not be with the crowds returning in the fall. We will miss our Seniors—they have found a place in our hearts. But others will be coming—those to whom everything will seem strange and new. To these we must open our arms in fellowship and good will, welcoming them to the campus, which will be their home for the next four years.

This is the last opportunity at the disposal of the regular staff of The Johnsonian to wish the student body a pleasant summer. Our fervent wish is that during the carefree summer months your fondest wish may be realized, and that you may return to the campus in the fall refreshed in body and spirit, ready to "carry on" in the old and pleasant way.

LAYING THE CORNERSTONE

The day, May 12, 1924, was not just like any other day in Rock Hill. Early in the morning the streets were swarming with people from all parts of the State, mingling free and untrammelled in spite of the fact that some were "Tillmanites" and some were not.

At 9:15 the train bearing 315 Clemson cadets rolled into the station. Shortly after 10 o'clock a procession led by the Fort Mill Cadet Band, began its march up Oakland Avenue. In the procession was the governor, several college presidents, eight companies of Clemson cadets, a body of 300 Masons, and others of official capacity. At the end of the line came about 10,000 citizens of South Carolina.

People of prominence and people of lesser importance had come together for a common purpose, to witness the laying of the cornerstone of Winthrop College, an act which everyone considered marked the beginning of a new era in the education of the women of the State. Rock Hill was the place that had been chosen as the site of the new institution. Her offer consisted of $50,000 in six per cent bonds, 35,000 bricks delivered, $200 in cash, the right to quarry all necessary granite, and the site of 30-1-1 acres, valued at $250,000. Other towns that submitted bids were St. Matthews, Spartanburg, Chester, Anderson, Marion, Laurens, Camden and Greenville.

Around the place where the cornerstone was to be laid was erected a platform. Upon this platform sat the young ladies of the Winthrop Training School of Columbia. The Masons also had seats arranged around the cornerstones.

After an opening prayer, a speech by Governor Tillman; a dedicatory address by Ira B. Jones, speaker of the South Carolina House of Representatives; and the benediction, the exercises were turned over to the Masons. The Grand Master announced that the treasurer would deposit whatever was presented for the purpose in a copper box, to be placed beneath the cornerstone. The following articles were deposited in the box:

1. Photograph of the commission appointed to look into the establishment of the college—Prof. D. B. Johnson, Miss Mary L. Yergin and Miss Hannah Hemphill.
2. Report of the Peabody Board, 1923.
3. Copy of the act establishing the college.
4. Copy of the program of the exercises for the day.
5. Governor Tillman's inaugural address.
6. A copy each of The Register, The News and Courier, and The State of this day.
7. Report of the Industrial College Commission.
8. Record of the origin and development of the college.
9. School law of South Carolina.

Collegiate Exchange

At Emory

Emory University has such a fine museum that even the dogs appreciate it and are constantly trying to inspect it, although the curator determines to keep them out. Three dogs, Prince, Fuzzy and Blackie, of different breeds, one day casually strolled into the museum and began to make a survey of all the butterflies, snakes, etc. Fuzzy liked a certain Babylonian statue very much and began to rub himself against it. The curator was short, however, for the curator immediately ushered them out and has posted a sign, "No Live Dogs Allowed"—The Gamecock.

Food! We Must Have Food!
Have you heard this one? The Citadel went on a food strike last week. Yep! A real sure enough food strike! The cadets suddenly decided that the foundation of all their troubles was hunger, so immediately clamored for better "food." The strike got out of hand in the evening, they got into the kitchen, excepted the cooks, and in the next morning they had hard-boiled eggs, toast and a banana! This delicious menu calmed the rebels and peace once more reigns.

Detroit: No Place For Us
Here's something that makes Winthrop look like a regular paradise. The cadets suddenly decided that the foundation of all their troubles was hunger, so immediately clamored for better "food." The strike got out of hand in the evening, they got into the kitchen, excepted the cooks, and in the next morning they had hard-boiled eggs, toast and a banana! This delicious menu calmed the rebels and peace once more reigns.

Beat Our Seniors, and How!
It won't be long shortly! These seniors' June, with all of its graduation plans, is approaching slowly but surely. The "sweet girls" are all excitement and are really showing a "childish" interest in sheep-skins.

The college papers are now filled with programs and arrangements for commencement, and it appears that this June will be the most memorable one yet.

Furnish this year has the largest Senior Class in the history of the institution, and what's more, each member is going to get a dip.

Well, no one can get ahead of Winthrop. We've got the sweetest band of graduates yet and you can bet your life we are proud of them.

TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS

GIVE DELIGHTFUL RECITAL

The pupils of Miss Vivian Ellis in the Training School auditorium, Tuesday evening, May 21, at 8:30 o'clock, gave a piano recital characterized by graceful movements and easy manner.

All the students who participated in this program showed remarkable musical and excellent training. Their unusual interpretation of the pieces of their numbers and the technique with which these numbers were rendered was marked.

The program was as follows:

Little Elvies from Fairland Johnson; Piccadilly March, Wheel or Irene Barron.

Dance of the Woodpeckers, Forum Charlie Francis Stuart.

April Song, Hewitt—Dorothy Williams.

Recitation Waltz, Drips—Selma London.

Melody of Love, Enchmann—Pauline Meier.

Moonlight Revels, Andre—Elsie Plant.

Dance of the Waterwitches, Evans; Valse Mignonne, Rolfe—Sara Anna Johnson.

Moonlight Dance, Horn—Mary Williams.

The Bells of St. Mary, Adams—Quentin—Ann Pugh.

Polish Dance, Schwarcena—Ellen Grutcher.

Mine a la Antico, Sabroek—Lillian Pitts.

Hungary, Egging—Gretchen Steele.

Day in Venice Suite: The Gondoliers, Anna Kotte, Nova—Athena Thomas.

By the Waters of Minnetonka, Leurgance; Minuetto, Schubert—Mary Culp.

Minuetto Waltz, Keene—Pat I. Dorothy Williams, Pauline Meier; Piano II, Elsie Plant, S. A. Johnson, Diana, Holst—Piano II, Mary Dorothy Clawson; Piano II, Lillian Logan.

Kind Old Party: "Mr. Hasenfratz, I hear you buried your wife yesterday." "Mr. Hasenfratz: "Mine Gotti I had to. She was dead!"

With Our Musicians

Bach Contest Concluded

In the final Bach contest held Monday afternoon Margaret Edwards won first place among the Juniors, Boulton Wingard among the Sophomores, and Molly Blackwell, the Freshmen. The judges were Mrs. Alexander Long, Mrs. E. R. Jeter and Mr. Roberts. Julia Neuffer and Margaret Edwards had to play three times before the judges could decide, and Virginia Smith and Molly Blackwell also had to play again. Faculty members assisted in the judging. The excellence of the playing of Bach was commented on by the entire audience and particularly by the town judges. Everyone felt that the contest was beneficial.

Glee Club Contest Next Week

The class Glee Club contest will be held Tuesday, May 28. The required song is "I Waited for the Lord," by Mendelssohn. In addition each club will sing another number. This contest promises to be unusually interesting.

"Kitchen Clock" Presented Again

Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 in Music Hall the second and third grades of the Winthrop Training School again presented the delightful operetta, "The Kitchen Clock," by Herbert Hyde. The setting added greatly to the music and songs.

The cantata, "In Woodland," by Kuntz, was also reproduced by pupils of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades. The cantata was marked by its melodious charm. The audience appeared very appreciative of the musical excellence of each.

Violin Recital

The pupils of the violin department gave a recital in Music Hall auditorium on Thursday afternoon, May 23. The excellence in presentation showed careful training. The program was as follows:

Passepied, Gilet—Lavinia Campbell.

Cantilene, Borowski—Ruth Hambrick.

Berceuse, Donath—Harriet Chertberg.

Avra, Habesha—Martha Melnes.

Adoration, Borowski—Clara Hill Shier.

Chanson Tzigane, Ledebert—Merced Massey.

Well, no one can get ahead of Winthrop. We've got the sweetest band of graduates yet and you can bet your life we are proud of them.

Lucille Ackers.

Habenera, Satorio—Louise Cobb.

Modification (Thais), Massenet—Mary Hammond.

Miss Edith Hasenfratz at the piano.

Hazel: Mae, how are you on the piano?

Mae: Never rode one—been on mules.

The Doings of the Y's Girls

Installation Service Wednesday
Installation service for the Y. W. C. A. officers will be held in the auditorium Wednesday, May 29, at 6:30. The ritual, the candle ceremony, and good music help to make this service the most impressive of the year. Every member is expected to be present.

Annual Reports Given
Wednesday night at 6:30, the Y. W. C. A. held its annual meeting. At that time each committee chairman gave a report of the work done in her department. Mary King, chairman of the membership committee, emphasized the importance of the membership campaign held the first of the year. Through the efforts of this committee the Freshmen became acquainted with the Y. W. C. A. work. The result of the campaign showed a total membership of 1883.

The publicity committee has been very active this year. This committee was partially responsible for the publication and the circulation of the Winthrop Hand Book. Throughout the year a group of girls have kept the Johnson Hall library open to all students. A student group has stimulated interest in the Y. W. C. A. work by making attractive posters for the bulletin boards.

Wilma Glindescales, chairman of the community service committee, outlined briefly the work of her department. Through this committee students have been permitted to borrow dishes from the Exchange in Johnson Hall, and to use the stoves and machines there. The Girl Reserve organization in Training School is sponsored by this committee. A group of girls from this department helped Dr. Dunning the first of the year and also during the influenza epidemic.

The social committee began its work with Freshman Stunt Night. It welcomed the faculty and the Freshmen with a reception in Johnson Hall. We all remember those famous examination teas and the interesting Christmas programs. This committee entertained in honor of Miss Gould and Dr. Kotschitz.

The religious education committee with Della Parley as chairman, conducted many Bible study courses. Discussion groups met to discuss student problems. Durin World Fellowship Week the committee presented an interesting play—"The Color Line".

Margaret Martin, chairman of the town girls' committee, gave a brief report. Their aim has been to bring about a closer relationship between the town girls and the Y. W. C. A. Angeline Fraser pointed out the good work done by the Freshman Counselors, who aided in Freshman orientation. Throughout the year the counselors held weekly meetings for discussion of student problems.

Cooper Davis reviewed the work of the religious education committee. There are four sub-committees: Prayer meeting, Rebecca Youngblood, chairman; morning watch, Emily Tribble, chairman; music, Katherine Rollins, chairman; and special meetings. This committee was responsible for the special programs: Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Mother's Day.

The home service committee, headed by Florence Hendrix, held home mission study classes. They met to discuss the social problems of South Carolina. Dr. Dunning, Mrs. Grauel and Miss Shellings led the discussions.

The Student Volunteers met every Sunday afternoon. They sent representatives to various conferences within the State. They have been instrumental in securing many interesting speakers.

Rose Ellis, treasurer, reported the financial status of the Y. W. C. A. The balance of $255.97 carried big until she pointed out that the fiscal year is from December 1 to December 1. Hence, the $255.97 must cover all expenses until December 1, 1933.

Ruth Hare, president, gave a brief survey of the year's work, "looking back," she said, "we find that some things to which we aspired have not been accomplished. Those tasks we leave unfinished hoping that you may complete next year the work which we have begun. Our ideals and our hopes we leave as a heritage. May the members ever have a fuller, more creative life through a growing knowledge of God and an understanding discipleship of Jesus Christ."

Counselors Lay Plans for Next Year
The Freshman Counselors have concluded their training. During the past week they met every other day. At these meetings the girls discussed various student problems, especially those which confront Freshmen. They planned solutions for the problems. This year the Freshman Counselors have accomplished much. Next year the field is even greater and the girls have planned their plans to meet the need.

Cabinet Organizes
The cabinet has been working hard for the past two weeks. Last week the various committee heads were chosen. Before school closes the committees will get a definite line-up on their particular phase of work. The committee plan was proved most effective. We look forward to the work of the new cabinet next year.

WINTHROP GIRLS WILL GO ON OPEN ROAD TOUR

Secretary of the International Service, who recently spoke at Winthrop College on some aspects of world student problems, and who has his headquarters at Geneva. Also either in Geneva or Paris the party will meet Dr. Jentsch, director of the International Student Respiration Association, who was a visitor at Winthrop last fall. Winthrop was one of the few colleges in the United States that had the pleasure of having Dr. Jentsch as its guest.

Then will come the grade finale. Paris for 10 days time enough for Gathie Charters, monarchist Versailles, and a three-day excursion to the chateau country, the intrigue of French court life.

On August 15 the party will sail from Cherbourg for New York on the Bremen, one of the fastest passenger vessels.

Yours to Command

Banking is both a business and a profession. The successful institution must be conducted on the soundest business basis. On the professional side, those who direct its affairs must have special training and long experience. They must be competent to advise.

The success of this bank attests the fact that it has adhered strictly to the principles of good business and sound banking. Cumulative experience gained during nearly half a century, is yours to command when you do your banking here.

Delicious and Refreshing

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

THE FELLOW THAT SHOUTS "KILL THE EMPIRE! LOUDEST, USUALLY WOULDN'T HURT A FLEA. ORDINARILY HE'S JUST GOTTEN ALL HOT AND BOTHERED AND NEEDS NOTHING SO MUCH AS AN ICE-COLD COCA-COLA AND THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES."

Millions have found that this pure drink of natural flavors, with its delicious taste and cool after-sense of refreshment, makes a little minute long enough for a big rest. The one who pauses to refresh himself laughs at the overheated fellow.
